This convenient instrumentation kit contains ninety percent of all the instrumentation required for both the Staging and the Commissioning tests included in the AV9000 Standard. This is a MUST for any quality conscious AV Company intent on verifying their systems for compliance in product, practice, and performance. This unique bundle is fully contained in a Pelican 1510 case, which is watertight, crushproof and dust proof and is an FAA approved airline-legal carry-on case. AV Field Specialists covet these kits and the significant time savings they offer when either preparing a system for Commissioning, or actually commissioning a modern engineered AV system.

The AV9000 Standard includes the most comprehensive battery of tests for quality assurance and is proven in thousands of systems to identify defects before the customer does in the most efficient means possible. More AV Buyers are insisting on AV Compliant companies every day. The “Case 2.0 Commissioning Kit” is guaranteed to qualify an AV company on the instrumentation.
